DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 2, 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ward (US 3894756).
3. Ward teaches an identification element (10) such as a credit card comprising a code pattern (30) serving as a first coding information and a coded hologram (14) serving as a second coding information storing identifying information of a user (see fig. 3; col. 3, line 20- col. 4, line 42).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ward in view of Janiak et al. (US 2002/0060243)(hereinafter referred to as 'Janiak').

The teachings of Ward have been discussed above.

Although, Ward teaches the card having the barcode and encoded hologram to store data, he fails to particularly teach that the card comprises a integrated circuit memory.

However, Janiak teaches a data card (18) having a memory chip (19) storing information (see fig. 1; paragraph 0022).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute the hologram of the Ward with the memory chip of Janiak to increase memory capacity to store identification data.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 5 and 6 are allowed.
7. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:
8. None of prior art teaches a method and system for identifying a material containing coding information comprising detecting of fluorescent light emitted from the information presenting substance of the material when exposed to the electromagnetic wave and identifying the material containing coding information with reference to the first coding information from the information presenting substance and the second coding information from the coding information storing means as set forth in the claims.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
